

Privacy Policy

The Tampa Bay Builders Association (TBBA) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting it at all times. This privacy statement explains how the TBBA collects, uses and safeguards information gathered from members.

Changes to the Internet Privacy Statement

As our organization, membership and benefits change from time to time, this Internet Privacy Statement is expected to change as well. We reserve the right to amend the Internet Privacy Statement at any time, for any reason. We will post a notice that this Internet Privacy Statement has been amended by revising the "Last updated" date at the top of this page.

If you have questions about this Internet Privacy Statement, please send us an e-mail.

Email Privacy

By joining the TBBA, and giving us your contact information, you are authorizing us to communicate with you. We will communicate with you only about events, programs, meetings and news regarding the association and the industry. The TBBA publishes a membership directory on an annual basis as well as lists members on our website, www.tbba.net. If you wish to not have your contact information included, please let us know. In an effort to protect your information, the TBBA staff will be the only representatives contacting you on behalf of the association. Members are not allowed to act as a communication representative on behalf of the Association. If you receive inappropriate communication regarding TBBA, please contact us immediately.

What information we collect and how we use it

Information we collect -- When you become a member, we ask for your business and personal information. The type of personal information collected will vary but may include name, address, phone number, billing and delivery information, e-mail address, credit card information and other demographic information. We do not collect Social Security numbers. We primarily contact you via your business contact information. The personal information we collect is kept in your membership record and is not sold, or published - not even in our directory or on our website.